<tr>
<td>Intact skin with non-blanchable redness of a localized area, usually over a bony prominence. Darkly pigmented skin may not have visible blanching; its color may differ from the surrounding area.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The area may be painful, firm, soft, warmer or cooler as compared to adjacent tissue. Stage I may be difficult to detect in individuals with dark skin tones. May indicate “at risk” persons (a heralding sign of risk)."

Hydrocolloids

Used as a primary or secondary dressing for wounds with light to moderate drainage. Helps maintain a moist wound environment to assist in autolytic debridement. When in contact with wound drainage, the dressing forms a fluid/gel environment over the wound bed. Thin hydrocolloid is semi-transparent, allowing visualization of the wound.
